Volunteer Opportunities for Bloomsbury Festival 2025

Deadline for Applications:

Monday 22 September at 6pm

(However, the earlier you submit your application the sooner you are included in any volunteering communications)

Volunteering Opportunity

Each year Bloomsbury Festival looks for volunteers to help take care of festival events and welcome audiences, providing an enjoyable experience for all.

To ensure a smooth running of our events, walks and exhibitions we rely on volunteers to assist in welcoming the audience at events, information distribution, attendance checking, collection of handwritten feedback, and partner communications. Aiding our Staff to present successful events enjoyed by our audiences.

Volunteer opportunities are designed for anyone who has an interest in supporting the festival and/or gaining additional skills and work experience. You will get to meet a variety of people, partners, professionals and creatives while also experiencing the behind-the-scenes tasks of an annual festival. You will also see some of the events at which you steward.

Volunteers are required throughout the Festival from Friday 17 to Sunday 19 October – plus at the opening evening event on Thursday 16 October. Some opportunities are one-off shifts and others can be multiple events spread across the festival period. You will be representing the Festival at live events (indoors and outdoors).

We only ask that if you become an Event Steward you are committed to the shifts you agree to, we are willing to work around your availability but require you to be realistic with your availability so we can best allocate you shifts.

You may be a new student just arriving in London, a local resident or someone looking to develop specific skills to broaden your career prospects – we can tailor your position to your availability and areas of interest.

Bloomsbury Festival 2025

This year the festival will be changing its format slightly to a long weekend, from Friday 17 - Sunday 19. This is as we prepare for a month-long festival next year in 2026 to celebrate our 20th anniversary. If you are interested in volunteering for the festival or getting involved in some way but are unable to commit to the 2025 dates, consider applying for our 2026 volunteering opportunities. We will hold your application for 2026 on record and reach out to you in Spring 2026 to check in and confirm your availability once more.

Training

We will be offering 3 training sessions in the lead up to the festival, plus a social meet and greet. Though all sessions will be voluntary we encourage you to join where you can.

Additional training sessions may be added in September, including an introduction to Event Management and Box Office. Confirmed volunteers will receive updates regarding any additions.

Requirements for Volunteering

- This opportunity is aimed at ages 18+
- A friendly, approachable manner
- Comfortable to assist members of the public (even if just to refer to the Festival brochure)
- Reliability is key
- Willingness to get involved
- Able to adapt to possible changes (we will try to avoid this as much as possible but some changes are unavoidable)

Volunteer Positions on Offer:

Event Stewards

This is the most flexible of our volunteer opportunities. You will be assisting our staff and box office team in welcoming the audience at events, directing them to the correct rooms and any necessary facilities, collecting handwritten feedback forms, and helping our team with audience control on bigger events. Altogether, aiding our Staff to present successful events across the festival.

You will be a key representative of the Festival at live events (indoors and outdoors).

You will be allocated events depending on your availability and we can offer some flexibility about the types of events you steward. We would hope you would be available for several of the festival days for a few hours minimum each time.

Some of the stewarding requires good physical fitness to accompany walks and some venues do not have wheelchair access but others do.

Radio Volunteers

Interested in radio? Consider applying to our Radio Volunteer opportunity instead. Learn from Bloomsbury Institute's Bloomsbury Radio and help cover the festival's events and activities over radio interviews and broadcasts.

Deadline for Radio Volunteers: Tuesday 1 July 2025

Stewarding Shifts:

If you are interested in a particular area of the festival (such as music or theatre) please share this information within the below application form, we do take this into consideration when allocating shifts. However, we cannot guarantee that all your shifts will align with your interests but we will try our best, we want you to enjoy your time at the Festival along with our audiences and partners.

There is no specified number of events that you must volunteer for but we do expect you to be committed to attending your shifts once you have volunteered. If you can no longer make a shift for unforeseen reasons you must contact your supervisor as soon as possible so they can prepare an alternative solution – we much prefer to know if something is not possible than have you down for a shift and then you are not able to make it on the day.

Accessibility/Inclusion:

At Bloomsbury Festival we are committed to creating an inclusive and accessible environment. We will consider all suitably qualified applications.

Most of the positions require you to have a reasonable level of physical fitness and good social skills with people and a good level of understanding of cultural events.

Some venues have good physical building access others have no wheelchair access, so if you have access needs please let us know when you apply and we will hope to tailor an opportunity for you to volunteer.
